Promontory School of Expeditionary Learning
STUDENT DATA COLLECTION NOTICE
Utah Code Ann. §53E-9-305

Promontory School of Expeditionary Learning is committed to ensuring the privacy, security, and confidentiality of student data while enabling the information to be used to improve student outcomes.

Under Utah state law, an education entity that collects and maintains student data is required to inform parents and students about the student data the school collects and how that information will be used, shared, and protected.

STUDENT DATA THE school COLLECTS:

Necessary student data includes: name; date of birth; sex; parent contact information; custodial parent information; contact information; a student identification number; local, state, and national assessment results or an exception from taking a local state, or national assessment; courses taken and completed, credit earned, and other transcript information; course grades and grade point average; grade level and expected graduation date or graduation cohort; degree, diploma credential attainment, and other school exit information; attendance and mobility; drop-out date; immunization record or an exception from an immunization record; race; ethnicity; tribal affiliation; remediation efforts; an exception from a vision screening or information collected from a vision screening; information related to the Utah Registry of Autism and Developmental Disabilities; student injury information; a cumulative disciplinary record.

Optional student data includes: information that is related to an Individual Education Plan or needed to provide special needs services; and information that is required for a student to participate in a federal or other education-related program. The school shall obtain written consent from a parent prior to collecting such information.

Student data the school does not collect: a student’s social security number, biometric records, or criminal records except as required in Utah Code § 78A-6-112.

USE OF STUDENT DATA:

The school uses student data that it collects to inform educational decisions about the student to improve student outcomes. The school has established a metadata dictionary that shows clear ownership and stewardship of each data element being collected and how we use it.

SHARING OF STUDENT DATA:

The school may not share a student’s personally identifiable student data if the personally identifiable student data is not shared in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act and the Utah Student Data Protection Act.

De-identified data, aggregate data, or anonymized data that could not be used to identify a particular student is not considered personally identifiable and may be released without consent or authorization.

PROTECTING STUDENT DATA:

The school maintains an Information Technology security program that is updated at least annually. The program consists of annual security training, third-party risk assessments, security testing, and audits. School systems are updated regularly to prevent unauthorized access to our systems.

The school maintains a variety of agency policies that address data and information privacy which are intended to secure all media containing sensitive or confidential data.

To ensure maximum student data privacy, the school shall, in accordance with Utah Board of Education rule, expunge a student’s data that is stored by the school.

If there is a release of a student’s personally identifiable student data due to a significant security breach, the school shall notify the student, if the student is an adult student, or the student’s parent or legal guardian, if the student is not an adult student.

The collection, use, and sharing of student data has both benefits and risks. Parents and students should learn about these benefits and risks and make choices regarding student data accordingly.
